The Results Are In...

JPRO asked for your feedback on what our professional community needs to grow. We heard from people across the landscape, including social justice organizations, summer camps, day schools, Federations, Hillels, synagogues, foundations, the media, and more.

Here’s what we learned.

WHO TOOK THE POLL

1,020 RESPONDENTS

Senior staff (including executives and senior managers)

Mid-level positions (managers and directors)

Entry-level and front-line employees (coordinators, associates, etc)

AGE:
20's 233
30's 89
40's 74
50's 29
60 & 70's 3
Join JPRO

Is your organization affiliated with JPRO? www.jpro.org/member-agencies

Here’s how to join us: www.jpro.org/org-join

80% of respondents are excited about CONNECTING LOCALLY

YOUR FAVORITE IDEAS

Communities of Practice:
Connect with people doing similar work or facing similar challenges to share tips, insights, and best practices.

Pro to Pro Career Advising:
Book one hour of free career support with a trained peer adviser.

Online Series:
“The Tough Stuff” – Learn practical approaches to difficult problems and “Thought Leaders on the Hot Seat” – Hear from people at the top and ask them your burning questions.

Master Classes:
Take advantage of the best training opportunities out there, curated by JPRO.

Discounts:
JPRO will secure member discounts for things that you use in your professional life (and outside it) including subscriptions, office supplies, rental cars, and much more.

I especially appreciate all of JPRO's help in preparing the next generation of Jewish Communal Professionals through education and training opportunities.

It's really important for us to create skills development for the people in their 20s-40s.

All of these ideas are hugely important in keeping the Jewish community vibrant and strong.

WOW! These ideas are amazing - creative, broad in scope, and most of all, desperately needed by our community.

Thank you for bringing so much energy and vision to the work.

I believe creating a more collaborative community of practice in my city is very important.

I am a proud board member of [my local chapter], and I couldn't imagine our Jewish professional community without it.

It’s really important for us to create skills development for the people in their 20s-40s.

All of these ideas are hugely important in keeping the Jewish community vibrant and strong.

WOW! These ideas are amazing - creative, broad in scope, and most of all, desperately needed by our community.

Thank you for bringing so much energy and vision to the work.

I believe creating a more collaborative community of practice in my city is very important.

I am a proud board member of [my local chapter], and I couldn't imagine our Jewish professional community without it.

We’d love to talk about how JPRO can support the unique challenges of small to intermediate communities like ours.

Join JPRO

Is your organization affiliated with JPRO? www.jpro.org/member-agencies

Here’s how to join us: www.jpro.org/org-join